CLOSE CALL FOR ZAK.

Ocean-to-Ocean Car Hangs on Bridge.

Famous Machine Out of Commission for First Time in West Virginia.

"Times" Pathway, Blazers Have Narrow Escape in Blue Ridge Mountains.

Craig Then Saves Girl, Mother and Sisters From Motor Tragedy.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

THE DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. WASHINGTON (W. Va., July 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—Death hovered over the crew of the Times car today when the emergency brake failed to work on the steep embankment over which Col. McCulloch made his famous leap. On the turn of the wheel in the wrong direction would have sent the big machine crashing down the precipice to the rocks, 125 feet below. Instead, Driver John Zaks deliberately backed through the bridge railing, where the machine hung, but was not overturned.

Judge J. M. Love, president of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, was in the tannery with Col. Dell M. Potter, national organizer, and Jesse Taylor, secretary of the Ohio Good Roads Federation. D. A. Matthews of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio was also in the car. Zaks, who was driving, was in the car. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge.

Far below the waters of the river, into which the daring old Indian hunter leaped with his horse, flowed up toward the town of Tygart for the first time since leaving Los Angeles, nearly two months ago, the car was out of commission, but the men had escaped without a scratch.

WOMEN IN DANGER. While the Times car was dangling over the bridge, Miss Clara Clemens, daughter of Sheriff W. H. Clemens of Wheeling, tried to drive her father's car, but she was unable to do so. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge.

Rare presence of mind on the part of Miss Clemens prevented the machine from rolling over the cliff and undoubtedly saved the lives of her mother and two sisters, Gwendolyn and little Frances. As the car started backward, Mrs. Clemens jumped to her feet in the tannery and with her year-old daughter in her arms, started to leap from the machine.

The automobile reporter of the Times rushed to the Stearns car, heading to Mrs. Clemens to keep her safe. Attracted by the shout, the wife of the sheriff sank back into the car, and the machine was saved from death under the wheels of the sliding motor.

On the verge of collapse after the narrow escape, Miss Clemens trembled with excitement. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge.

The Times car was being driven back from the Henry Clay monument to a film grove when the accident occurred. It was the first time in the history of the Times car that it had been stuck on a bridge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge.

On the verge of collapse after the narrow escape, Miss Clemens trembled with excitement. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge. The car was stuck on the bridge, and the machine was hanging over the edge.

Prince d'Aragon Who Shot Himself.

PARIS, June 23.—Prince Ludovic Pignatelli d'Aragon shot himself with a revolver in the region of the heart at his residence in Paris, France, as a consequence of a love affair. The bullet struck a rib and came out through his back.

A servant hearing the report, ran into the room and prevented the Prince from firing a second shot.

It is understood the Prince has been much troubled since his recent American visit. The question of religion prevents his proposed marriage.

Prof. Barabian and Bayeux hope to serve their diagnosis for several days. The reported engagement of the Prince to Miss Mary Duke, an American heiress, several months ago, was denied at the time.

FEDERAL JUDGE IS CITED FOR TRIAL IN THE SENATE.

Chairman of House Committee on Judiciary Presents Articles of Impeachment Against Archbald, Recommended by Former President Roosevelt, on Charges of Reprehensible Conduct.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the Committee on Judiciary of the House of Representatives presented to the House today articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States Court of Commerce. Mr. Clayton's report was unanimously adopted by the committee.

It constituted the ninth impeachment of a judicial or civil official of the United States since the foundation of the government, and is the first since the impeachment trial of Judge Charles Swayne of the Northern District of Florida, who was acquitted on February 27, 1903.

"The conduct of this judge has been exceedingly reprehensible and in marked contrast to the high sense of judicial ethics and probity that characterizes the Federal judiciary," says the committee in summarizing its findings against Judge Archbald.

"His business transactions while a judge on the bench were held to be in violation of the high standards of judicial ethics and probity that characterizes the Federal judiciary," says the committee in summarizing its findings against Judge Archbald.

Brokers' Exchange Building a Pile of Ruins.

TONOPAH (Nev.) July 8.—Three business blocks were destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning.

The loss is estimated to be between three hundred thousand and a half million dollars. W. W. Booth, owner of the Bonanza, estimates his loss at $1,000,000, with no insurance.

The fire is believed to have started in the K. of P. building and swept the structure in a few minutes. The building was the meeting place for the Odd Fellows, K. P. Moose, Eagles, Women of Woodcraft and the Woodmen. The Flery drug store was located in the building.

The fire crossed the street and destroyed Tom Kendall's home, the Tonopah Sun plant, and from there it extended up Central street, taking many homes in its wake.

It then doubled back and licked up the Tonopah block, worth $50,000. The wind veered and the handsome Brokers' Exchange building was destroyed in a short time.

The fire, sweeping into side streets, then burned many homes. The flames were checked at the State Bank and Trust Company building.

Why We Think The Sunset Rotary Is Queen of Sewing Machines.

—In the first place it has the automatic tension.

—Superior in running qualities.

—Every working part is oiled from above.

—Lifting the head unnecessary.

—Impossible to clog the Sunset Rotary, because of little Rotary knives that obviate the objection to the old-style Rotary.

—The Sunset Rotary is so simple in construction—no intricate parts to get out of order.

—The operator sits directly in front of the machine.

—There is no right or wrong to the stitch. The stitch locks in the center, leaving both sides perfect.

—Loss liable to rip.

—Only two motions are necessary to thread the shuttle.

—You can buy a Sunset Rotary on the easy payment plan.

The "Big Reduction" Bait

Whenever a tailor offers his suitings at 20 to 50 per cent reduction—it's certain proof to every thinking man that he is likewise cutting the quality somewhere.

Such reductions and high-grade tailoring don't—and can't—harmonize.

To close out my summer suitings I am sacrificing every cent that high-grade, conscientious tailoring will bear—which is $7.50 off my $50 suits, and $6 off my $40 suits.

These reductions, however, are genuine—and the tailoring, the usual Jordan high standard. Drop in and let me take your measure.

Santa Clara county also leads in the growing of plums and peaches.

In Fresno county orchards are found the greatest number of peach and nectarine trees, 2,277,315 being the grand total of both.

In Fresno county are the greatest vineyards, made of 10,687,207 vines, which produced in 1909, 611,253,961 pounds of grapes.

Climate of Alaska May Change. New Fishery Banks Likely and Bering Straits May Be Closed.

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Permanent alteration in the climate of the Alaskan coast, the opening of new fishing banks of unestimated value, and the eventual closing of Bering Straits are among the scientific probabilities now being investigated as the result of the eruption of Mt. Katmai, a month ago.

With the air still clouded with dust from the eruption, various geological parties and several revenue cutters are exploring the bottom of the sea to determine in how far submarine geography has been changed. This feature of the situation is thought to give great importance to the eruption, in which the immediate danger was from volcanic ash and lava, but the eruption was a great sweep of land. So far as the earth's surface is concerned, the eruption has been a great sweep of land. So far as the earth's surface is concerned, the eruption has been a great sweep of land.

Geologists assert that the tops of submerged mountains which form the Aleutian Islands are rising steadily, and after eventually cutting off Bering Sea, will continue to rise until what is now the sea will be replaced by a great sweep of land. Recent disturbances are attributed to pressure on the ocean's floor caused by deposits of enormous amounts of sediment. The floor, they say, bends, and the craters shout to relieve the pressure. A United States Geological Survey party which was working in the Cook Inlet country has gone to Kodiak, and a large number of government scientists will sail from Seattle Tuesday for Seward, there to take passage for Kodiak.

VITAL STATISTICS. DATA FOR THE WHOLE STATE. SACRAMENTO (Cal.) July 8.—There were 24,912 deaths in California during 1911, an increase of 1614, or 6.5 per cent, over the figures for 1910, according to the final tabulation of the United States Census Bureau. The statistics in the office of the State Board of Health. The year 1911, he says, was the first in the history of the State when the "registered" births exceeded the death total, the system of registration slow-

RECOUNTS HIS TROUBLES WITH A FEDERAL JUDGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, in which former Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger is accused of conspiracy to defraud the government, was today in court for the purpose of adjusting the controversy between the State of California and the Federal Land Office which has been pending for many years, returned to Sacramento.

Ballinger says that real progress in the case of the problem was made at the discussions with the secretary of the Interior.

Hanford Case.

under the influence of liquor in a bar.

"I saw him take three or four drinks, by a quart bottle of whiskey and stagger into the street," the witness testified.

Samuel H. Piles, former United States Senator, was called by the defense and the legal makes surrounding the celebrated Sullivan will case were added to the record.

The first questions directed had to do with the habits of Judge Hanford when off the bench. Mr. Piles described the usual drinks called for by the judge and himself when they met at a club, as had been their practice twice a week for a year past, he said. He declared he had never seen Judge Hanford under the influence of liquor and that the furor of the trial was a genuine one.

CONTRADICTION PETERSON. Mr. Piles contradicted the testimony of Witness Peterson, who had said that he had seen the judge and the former Senator on the street together recently, the former showing signs of intoxication.

Witness was questioned concerning the Sullivan will case, in which Judge Hanford's decision nullifying the probating of the oral will of Marie Carver was reversed by the Appellate Court and the case dismissed by the Supreme Court of the United States.

CONTINGENT FEE. Piles testified that his firm was engaged on a contingent fee by the man who financed John Wright to find the Irish heirs of the aged Seattle capitalist, which he valued at $1,000,000. He could not remember the names of the companies that finally came into possession of the estate, and asked repeatedly that his attorney, James B. Howe, be called.

Howe was summoned and gave a full history of the litigation. He also testified that he had never seen Judge Hanford under the influence of liquor.

George Donworthy, formerly United States district judge, testified that Hanford's apparent nodding and napping in the court did not interfere with his attention to cases. Witness had never noticed Judge Hanford under the influence of intoxicants.

Condolences.

HUNDREDS MOURN DEATH OF SARAH PLATT DECKER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) July 8.—Hundreds of messages of condolence were received today by the family of Sarah Platt Decker, who died yesterday of heart disease, in the city of Los Angeles.

John Brien Walker, in a statement today, characterized Mrs. Decker as "one of the world's greatest stateswomen."

"Holding profound views on nearly all public questions, Mrs. Decker was always wise, always sincere, always earnest, always temperate, always courageous and always able to exert a broad control over her fellow workers. No such woman, so far as I am aware, has previously appeared in the history of America. She was the world's greatest stateswoman."

TAKES POLICE IN CONFIDENCE.

Christian Convert in Stockholm
Confesses Murder.

Declares He Killed a Man in Denver Years Ago

Now He Wants to Devote
His Life to Religion.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
STOCKHOLM, July 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A murder which was committed in the railroad yards at Denver more than eight years ago was cleared up here this afternoon when C. L. Adamson, alias Kid Thompson, a cement worker, walked into the police office and confessed that he and a pal, whose name he could not recall, were responsible for the crime. He said they had killed the man, who was a stranger to them, and robbed him of 15 cents. The police were hunting for Adamson when he walked into headquarters. He had previously mailed a written confession to the Denver Chief of Police.

CONVERSION.
Converted to Christianity and anxious to make reparation for all the wrongs he has done, Adamson recently decided to unburden himself. He is a member of the local Pentecostal Mission and declares he will devote the remainder of his life to church work.

HIS CONFESSION.
In talking to Chief, Briare he said: "This Denver matter took place about 1903 in the early part of the year. It was very cold weather. I had been working on Locust street. One day I got a railroad pass and sold it and when I blew the money I met a stranger in the railroad yards. We were both broke and he asked me to help him hold up a fellow. I got scared and tried to back out, but he called me a baby and I decided to go ahead with the job. He sneaked up behind a fellow and hit him on the head with a rock. The fellow dropped like a log and I saw blood pouring out of his head. I went through his pockets and got 15 cents and a knife. My pal cursed me because the loot was so small and said the next day I saw him and he said the man was dead. After that I got reckless and did shop-lifting and also introduced young fellows to loan sharks. I've turned a lot of mean tricks and,

LIGHT FROM THE EAST ON THE LIVING ISSUES.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 8.—[Special Dispatch.] The following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern papers:

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

AMERICANS DOING WELL.
[New York World, July 8:] Much has been expected of the American athletes at Stockholm, but in the first day's Olympic contests they even exceeded anticipation. Men from whom the best performances were not to be looked for to the front and added their full share of the honors of the team. Wherever the Olympic games have been held the Americans have scored a series of triumphs. Every year but one they have had to make long journeys, interrupt their training and experience a change of climate and they have overcome all obstacles. They have started well and they will finish well.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

WILSON AS ECONOMIST.
[New York Sun, July 8:] Gov. Wilson is too enlightened an economist to lay too much stress upon the malign influence of the tariff, and nobody knows better than he that trusts exist without protection and that the high cost of living is not confined to the United States or to protection of nations. No doubt he will have some highly-interesting things to say about the tariff. He will not count to see, however, that even if you could persuade people that the tariff is the general and particular devil whose infernal horns are butting up prices, the result may prove unpleasant to the persaders in the end. May it not be a delusion, or illusion, as many unprejudiced persons believe, that the tariff has much to do with the cost of living?

The lesson of the election returns of 1912, when Mr. Cleveland was beaten by the cry of "free trade," is, we may be sure, not absent from Gov. Wilson's philosophic consideration of the tariff question of 1912.

CAMPAIGN HUMOR.

MORE OF IT NEEDED.
[New York Times, July 8:] A brief season burdened with two Presidential campaigns of the liveliest sort, one preceding the nominations, the other introductory to the elections, will require an extra supply of the campaign humor which have distinguished all important political contests since the Jackson epoch.

The deep study is devoted by the discounter of Oyster Bay to the price of eggs may have in time a serious economic interest. There is, we believe, a rapidly-increasing number of voters in all the States to whom the humorous view of the colonel is becoming irritating. But the revellers of a campaign are of spontaneous growth and we have touched upon this subject merely to point out another radical change due to the institution of preference primaries. Hitherto one set of jokes has served as far as jokes can serve in politics to elect one candidate for the Presidency and defeat the other.

PRESSING QUESTIONS.

FOR WILSON TO ANSWER.
[New York Herald, July 8:] Reference to our column of "Letters from Read's Readers" will show that the question of raising the Democratic platform is causing a very lively discussion.

Some correspondent wants to know how the cost of living is going to be reduced without lowering the tariff on agricultural products. He inquires whether the Democracy is going to give the country a "consumers' free if possible, I want to pay back all the money."

UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Adamson will be kept under surveillance until the police hear from the Denver authorities. Adamson is a married man and has a baby. His wife stated that she was very happy over her husband's confession and was sure everything would come out all right. She said that loan sharks, from whom they had borrowed money to live, had nearly dogged them to death.

SEEK TAILOR FOR MURDER.

Chicago Man Is a Fugitive on the Charge of Having Killed His Wife With a Revolver.

(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 8.—[Special Dispatch.] With a year-and-a-half-old infant in his arms, Peter Porro, a tailor, whose residence is at No. 213 Sholto street, is a fugitive from justice wanted for the murder of his wife, Theresa Porro.

Mrs. Porro, who had been visiting friends in the village of Forest Park, alighted from a Metropolitan elevated train at the Center-avenue station this afternoon. She was accosted by her husband, who had followed her, and a violent quarrel ensued. Drawing a pistol the man pointed it at his wife, who tried to deter him from shooting by holding up their baby. Lenore, whom she was carrying. Fearing the child from her arms he fired three shots at her, one of which struck her in the neck, severing the main artery. She died in a police ambulance while being taken to Cook County Hospital.

THREE MEN EXECUTED.

THE PENALTY OF MURDER.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
OSSING (N. Y.) July 8.—Three convicted murderers, Giuseppe Cirillo, George Williams, a negro, and Santa Zanza, were put to death in the electric chair in quick succession at Sing Sing Prison this morning. Zanza was one of a band of six Italians convicted of the murder of Mrs. Mary Hall, in a lonely farmhouse in Westchester county, November, 1911. His five companions in crime are to be executed during the week of August 12.

SAILING FOR BREMEN.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 8.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Among the passengers sailing for Bremen tomorrow on the Kron Princess Cecilie are Mrs. A. M. Bonz and Masters Billie and Tebo Bonz. J. C. Wickman, Robert Stenman and wife, Marie Rumpfer, Edmund Resch, E. R. Entille, Mrs. Theresa Sutto, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wein, of San Francisco. Sailing on the Philadelphia for Plymouth Saturday were Mrs. Mary J. Kelly, of New York; Miss Rachel Hewan, Miss Mary and Mrs. L. Perroli, of San Francisco.

Lux Orientals.

as well as a "farmers' free list," which was so triumphantly passed by the Democratic House. Undoubtedly Gov. Wilson will answer the questions in his address of acceptance.

THE BOLTER'S CALL.

FROM THE WILDS.

[New York Tribune, July 8:] The fight against Mr. Taft is going to be kept up. It is idle to pretend that there is an exigency demanding the creation of a third party, or that there really will be a third party. The proper sense of the word. The new creation is a factional movement, a political movement, a venal movement, but it has none of the elements of permanence in it—which go to make a real party, such as one as men might turn to in the belief that it meant the dawn of a new day. And the selfish calculation of these men compels the so-called new party of higher political morality to descend to sharper practices at its inception. To obtain a single electoral vote, it must flinch another party's electors and place them on the ballot.

THE PLAGUE.

OUR GATES CLOSED.

[Washington Post, July 8:] The cablegrams from San Juan, Porto Rico, and Havana, as to the bubonic plague having claimed victims in each of those cities, are sufficient notice to our government and our people of the imminence of the danger to our population on the mainland. No chances should be taken with either vessels, crews or passengers from infected points, or from ports that might really become infected.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" never had more powerful application than now. Better a few hundreds, or even a few thousands quarantined for proper periods, than our 90,000,000 inhabitants endangered by the landing of the terrible destroyer upon our shores.

END OF LORIMER.

EVENT OF THE WEEK.

[Philadelphia Press, July 8:] This week ought to see the end of William Lorimer as a Senator of the United States, and according to all indication it will be. There is no reason to doubt the accuracy of the poll of the Senate, which estimates a vote of approximately two to one against the validity of his tainted title. Lorimer never has measured up to the standards of a United States Senator, as they were fixed at the beginning of the republic and as they are still maintained by the American people.

In finally expelling Lorimer, the Senate will redeem itself to the extent of proving that it is still responsive to public opinion and the demands of common decency.

SURETHING DEMOCRACY.

PAEANS OF VICTORY.

[Baltimore American, July 8:] Only listen to the glad paeans of victory which are being sounded from the Democratic camp. It is all over but the shouting, and the shouting has fairly rattled the stars as they glimmer in the nebulous ether. The campaign ahead is to be a triumphant march, a joyous festivity from start to finish.

Later on, of course, we shall have to buckle down to realities and tell the sober truth concerning Democratic preparations, and protestations, but for a little while the glad triumphant shouts reverberate.

American people are going to do some straight to the point thinking before the November election day arrives. In later on there will be a frost, a killing frost, but let's not speak of it—not at least until the triumphant shouting has sobered down a little.

Ella Flagg Young "Sasses"
Back at Mr. Shepard.

Complaints Against the Red
Tape of Membership.

(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 8.—[Special Dispatch.] Forerunners of the National Educational Association and secured Mrs. Ella Flagg Young for the presidency reached the starting of the convention today. In a last attempt to hold them together, Mrs. Young went practically to Grace C. Strachan, the New York candidate for the presidency and asked her to withdraw, with the result that the New Yorkers redoubled their campaign efforts, big steamers bearing the candidate's name being distributed.

FORMAL OPENING.
This, the main session of the delegates as they crowded into the auditorium this afternoon for the formal opening of the National Educational Convention, was supplemented by a flow of charges and counter charges of bad faith.

President Carroll G. Peers started off a day notable for important events not scheduled by upsetting all association precedents and submitting a report to the board of directors. He declared the time to be at hand when a radical change in the conduct of the secretaryship, an office filled by Irwin Shepard, must be made.

RED TAPE.
Active membership in the association, the only form of carrying with it the privilege of voting for officers, he said, had been plagued about with so much red tape and other difficulties that the voters now number several thousand less than they should be. The president went so far in his description of the obstacles in the way of teachers desiring to become active members as to say that "acquiring of active membership in the association has come to be considered, apparently, almost as solemn a ceremony as the sacrament of marriage."

President Peers also challenged the accuracy of the tables of withdrawal after the Boston convention, which Secretary Shepard submitted in support of his proposals that those who have become active members within three months of a convention be refused the right to vote in that convention.

FINAL SHOT.
As a final shot he said that while he did not question in the slightest the honesty of any officer of the federation, there is no way of telling under the present system of accounting whether all the membership fees taken by the secretary's office have been recorded and turned into the association. He recommended immediate change of the system of accounting.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.
President Peers' report started a fight between the supporters and opponents of Secretary Shepard. Mr. Shepard declared himself opposed to the enrollment of "take membership" and denied that he had attempted to suppress the enrollment of active members.

Mrs. Young criticized a report of the secretary. "Mr. Shepard said that there has been stuffing of the membership to insure victory in the election," she said. "In Boston he said there was a sudden enrollment of new members, and the membership dropped off 40 per cent. next year. If that is so, why should he cause anybody to suffer more? I'd like to know what it is."

ROCKEFELLER'S BIRTHDAY.
On His Seventy-third Anniversary "Oil King" Entertains Friends and Goes to Church.
[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]
CLEVELAND (O.) July 8.—[Special Dispatch.] John D. Rockefeller, who was 73 yesterday, celebrated his birthday by entertaining a few friends at his home in the city. The "oil king" was passing from church to home to lunch he was greeted by a group of growing lads looking the way to a Sunday game. The boys, who were Rockefeller's "many more" returned Rockefeller to a few more, "I hope to have a few more," Rockefeller said. "I feel young now. Rockefeller asked each of the lads to turn what he intended to make tomorrow. All except one had his hand not yet made up his mind. "What one are you, my boy?" "John D." "John D.?" answered the youth. "Well, when I was your age," said Rockefeller, "I had already succeeded in building my fortune. To be sure what you intend to do and do it. The chances for a young man today are better than they were to me, but he must go to meet them to him. Just wait for them to come."

MARY IS POISONED.
Finds Medicine Tablets and Eats in the Act by Mother.
[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]
PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—[Special Dispatch.] Mary Nimman, the 11-month-old child of Mrs. Mary Nimman of No. 227 Fourth Street, who had just been taken to a hospital, died of a botulism toxin, a quantity of them was found in the child's stomach. The woman was taken to the hospital two hours later at the suggestion of a doctor. The mother was taken to the hospital at the time. The woman with whom Mrs. Nimman was living left the baby in the bed and went out into the yard. The baby was found in the dining room, where a cupboard where medicine bottles and boxes were kept. The bottle containing the medicine was found on the floor. The baby had eaten a number of them. The tablets contained each one grain of aloin, one-eighth of a grain of strychnine, and a half grain of castor oil.

MOVING PICTURES OF STOMACH.

Science Now Able to Show the Effects
Upon Digestion of Worry, Anger or Other Excitement.

[Philadelphia Press:] Regular moving pictures of the stomach of human beings and animals in the process of digestion, have recently been exhibited in Germany, and it is believed that it will not be very long before such pictures will be exhibited to all medical students as a part of their course of training.

Experiments were made first on cats. By adding slimeth, harmless substrate of the foods of the felines, the contents of the stomach became visible to the X-ray apparatus. The results of the photographs in rapid succession, it was possible to secure a moving picture and to observe the process of the stomach goes through when digesting a meal.

The old idea that the stomach is divided practically into two parts, one being used as a sort of reservoir and the other as a mill, is thus fully disproved by the pictures. The stomach works as a mill.

When the food enters, the stomach begins to churn and knead back and forth. This churning movement is the term of regular waves, which succeed one another at intervals of twenty seconds. As the food advances thoroughly digested it advances to the other end of the stomach, "gatekeeper" which allows it to pass on. So long as there are digested morsels in the stomach, the leading action continues and the pylorus remains obdurate.

It is illustrated by the moving pictures that worry, anger or other excitement causes the digestive apparatus to contract, and that even other animals prove that when they are teased, or even when they have been fed, they have had dramatic contractions of the stomach movements.

It is believed that a careful study of this subject will throw new light on the digestive process and aid in the treatment of disease.

VACATION FOR CONVICT.

New Humanitarian Scheme Proposed.

Exceeds Any Previous Reform.

Prison Methods Adopted Anywhere.

[Memphis Commercial Appeal.]

Either the warden of the Georgia Penitentiary is a gourmandier or a gourmet. He has granted a life-sentence to a convict because he has demonstrated that he is a look. Such an excellent chat he has shown himself to be that the warden is not more and more anxious to spend his vacation. More than this, he proposes to pay his expenses himself. This is something new. It even exceeds the reform prison methods of the distant West, where the convict is allowed to work for his own living. In the picture shown in winter. If it keeps up, prison life will be made as pleasant as life in the country. He takes his chances behind the walls of the penitentiary as the guest of the State. He remains outside and comfortable with the family. The prevailing idea of the modern life is that imprisonment is not for punishment but for reformation and restoration of society. This is the wise keynote of the new movement, and it looks to be the most reasonable. The old theory of punishment handed down the criminal's heart rather than his mind. The new theory is a compulsory sentence and leave rather than entered against society than when he left the institution. Being an outcast, he was not only persecuted and haunted and hunted thing, he did not feel it was worth while to reform his life of living.

PILOTS AT PANAMA

Extraordinary Precautions to Prevent any Damage to Canal or If Approaches Purposely or Carelessly [Review of [Reviews:] Exhaustive thought and experiment have been expended upon measures and methods to prevent any possibility of accidents in the operation of the canal. It is the belief of the chief engineer that these precautions should be taken to eliminate the possibility of damage here designed," he said, in conversation with the writer, "is to prevent a merchant ship from carrying a foreign nation from deliberately ramming our works under pretense of a mistake on the

to obviate such a contingency that a section of the bill confers upon the management of the canal authority the right to mark the route of the waterway and to place a pilot board of each, with entire control of navigation during its passage. It is believed that masters of merchant vessels would welcome the relief from the responsibility of navigating the canal. It is also believed that it is a measure, and that owners and insurers would find it a protection against the usual location of claims for damage in that the vessel incurred transit. On the other hand every commander of a naval vessel would find it a relief to have a foreign power, may be expected to resent it. Nevertheless, it is considered that the bill is a wise one and that if provided for by present Congressional action, will create a permanent measure in time of war.

Intelligence of Alaskan Dogs.

World's Dogs on the trail
After the war, the dogs on the trail almost human. On one occasion I remember I was driving a team of dogs down the Yukon river, and had one of the dogs named Tommy. Tommy was a good dog in his way, but he showed a strong dislike to being harnessed—to such an extent that he would not let me put his harness on him. He would rather be hitched to the sleigh. Tommy would hide himself under a cabin of a house, and when I came to harness him continued for several mornings, and beating him seemed to have no effect on him. Finally I decided to try a different plan. I was then standing in the cold, waiting for Master Tommy. I finally discovered that he was under the cabin door, and as soon as I came in sight, dragging the dog, the entire team, moved by a common impulse, bounded toward me, and Tommy, who was the most terrible thrashing to Tommy. I finally rescued him from his angry comrades by pulling him out. Tommy was always the first to put his head in the collar in answer to my whistle.

[London Globe:] There is some lamentation over the disappearance of the top hat. An observer with a taste for more practical than useful in statistics stood in a shop entry on fashionable Bond street the other day for ten minutes by a stop watch. He recorded that ninety-two men of the upper class passed on his side of the pavement in that time and, alas! only eleven wore silk hats, with the accompanying coats. The eighty-one others were variously clad in tweeds and other ratcatcher costumes, and were either the inconspicuous "bowler" or some flattened and distorted headgear.

Cities and Towns of Los Angeles County

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

TRACKS FOR LINCOLN AVE.

City Council to Grant P. E. Franchise Today.

Some Property Owners Kick at Innovation.

Lean Candy and More Study for Students.

[Office of the Times, 22 S. Fair Oaks avenue.]

PASADENA, July 8.—The City Council this morning will grant a thirty-year franchise to the Pacific Electric Railway Company to construct the desired Lincoln-avenue line on that thoroughfare between Fair Oaks avenue and Montana street, a distance of about two miles. The proposed innovation that over half of the $20,000 bonus required by the railway company has been raised and that the remainder can be obtained before the expiration of the four months' time that the franchise will allow for the commencement of the work.

This is the line for which residents of the northwestern part of the city have long been clamoring. It will give to a large territory now remote from the center of the city in point of time taken to go to and from it the advantage enjoyed by outlying districts in other directions.

The railway company is being importuned to extend the line to La Canada, where it can connect with the proposed Sacramento Canyon line, which will come close to Devil's Gate.

The petition for the formation of a storm drain district in the northwestern part of the city, over which there is a decided difference of opinion among residents of the territory, considered, with some before the City Council today, together with a protest signed by 107 property owners that was filed with City Clerk Dyer yesterday.

The Council will undoubtedly refer the matter to a committee for further consideration, after listening to delegations that will very likely be present from both sides.

The signers of the protest declare in part:

"We protest for the reason that it will be no benefit whatever to our property, and for the further reason that the proposed improvement is not a public necessity and is not for the purpose of protecting and improving private property."

The protesters go on to say that they have already been taxed sufficiently and that the further proposed taxation to form the storm drain district will be more than they can reasonably stand. They ask that the proceedings be abandoned.

TAXES DISCUSSED.

The City Council held its first session as a Board of Equalization yesterday forenoon, and the Throop Polytechnic Institute, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association were the chief protesters. Five applications for lower assessments were received in all. The board took these applications under advisement and adjourned to meet next Monday.

WORK TO BEGIN.

Contracts have been let and work will soon be begun on the three buildings of the group that is to comprise the new Occidental College in Eagle Rock valley. Bear of the institution, who lives in Pasadena, announced yesterday that the building will be put up by the Richardson Contracting Company of Los Angeles, and that the contract price for the three is $250,000. They are Johnson Hall, Fowler Hall and James Swan Hall. The buildings are to be completed and ready for occupancy by September 1, 1912. It is no unforeseen obstacles are encountered. Grading for the buildings has been in progress for some time and work upon the structures themselves will be begun at once.

LEAN CANDY; MORE STUDY.

When school opens next fall the eating of candy and ice cream to an inordinate extent will be frowned upon. The Board of Education has concluded that the children have been patronizing candy stores and ice cream parlors to a greater extent than is good for them and will ask the Parent-Teachers Association of the city to aid in causing the pupils to eat less and study more.

The board has previously determined to purchase three lots adjoining the Madison-avenue school grounds, at a cost of about $3500.

The two summer playgrounds that the board was petitioned to establish in addition to Carmelita playground will not be opened. The members of the board after considering the request have concluded that, owing to lack of funds and the probability that not a very large number of children would avail themselves of the opportunity there to play, they will abandon the project.

J. B. Beardsley last night was appointed overseer of buildings and grounds at a salary of $125 a month. The office is a new one, just created.

WANTS MORE POLICEMEN.

Chief of Police Wood yesterday filed with the Board of City Commissioners his report for the fiscal year just ended and asked for three more patrolmen.

"The last year," he reported, "has been one of advancement for this department as well as efficiency. The speed trap has been an invaluable assistance and at the present time it is seldom that the speed law is broken. The opening of a private office for the detection of delinquency and the installation of the finger-print system will prove of value in the future in the identification and ferreting out of criminals."

The accidental shooting of Patrolman Clarence E. Beck, August 1, resulting in his death, was the saddest in the minds of the officers, the fact that there was no provision made for the sick and injured officer, a result was the establishment of a relief association, which has been nolly assisted by the people of Pasadena. Five patrolmen and a secretary were appointed during the year; two members of the force resigned and one died. One sergeant was advanced to captain, and one patrolman to sergeant.

Another matter to come to the attention of the City Commissioners yesterday was the question of what trees should be planted on South Orange Grove avenue, the handsome boulevard in the city. There are now a large variety of ornamental trees planted along the avenue and the desire of the city is that the trees shall be uniform. It was decided yesterday that "coco plumon" shall be set out alternately with pepper trees. There are many pepper trees on the boulevard at present.

CITY BRIEFS.

Samuel Hix and W. H. Martin were fined $5 each by Justice of the Peace Dunham yesterday for cruelty to animals.

Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, recently was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Alhambra College.

The store of the Charles H. Ward Drug Company, corner of Chicago street and Fair Oaks avenue, has been sold to A. G. and T. E. Spahr, late of Mason City, Iowa, who will continue the business under the name of Spahr Bros.

Island Newby, for three years one of the strongest members of the track team of the Pasadena High School, will enter the Morgan Park Academy in Chicago next fall.

In the hope that he will reconsider his decision to leave the city for an eastern field, the congregation of the First Christian Church has postponed indefinitely consideration of the resignation of the pastor, Rev. W. C. Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kellogg of Altadena have joined John Muir, the well-known naturalist and author, in an automobile trip through the Yosemite Valley.

PAPER FOR MONROVIA.

E. C. Silvers Promotes to Run Un-Biased and Progressive Organ.

Other News.

MONROVIA, July 8.—Monrovia is rejoicing in the prospect of a new, live, up-to-date newspaper, for there is one crying need in this thriving community it is for a newspaper free from bias, independent and honest, above malice and with the courage to speak the truth. All these things the Monrovia Mail promises to be. The owner and the editor, E. C. Silvers, is a rising, energetic newspaperman, having run a paper in Mexico sixteen years and for the last five years was editor and manager of the Little Enterprise, Morgan City, Louisiana, recently sold to the Little Enterprise Publishing Company. He has taken the Zerell building on South Myrtle avenue, near Olive avenue, and the work of installing the press, which arrived last Friday, is in progress.

He is a staunch Republican and promises a loyal Republican paper and is enthusiastic about the prospect of success in Monrovia. The first number will be issued about August 1 and every Wednesday thereafter. Monrovia's general and business men in particular are giving Mr. Silvers a hearty welcome and co-operation.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

TODAY AND TONIGHT.

THE LAND AND ITS FUTURE.
Permanent exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce building, 100 South Broadway, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.
Times Office, No. 57 South Broadway.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Federated Improvement.
The Federated Improvement Association will meet Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

Bids for the construction work on the Tubo Canyon protection district were opened by the County Supervisor yesterday, and were taken under advisement for report at the next meeting. The eight bids varied greatly, running from $101,500 to $155,000.

Reception Salutation.
A dispatch received here from Tacoma Sunday evening announced that the city of Washington has honored the city of Los Angeles with a reception salutation for John A. Falsburg, who is on an embassied charge preferred by officials of the House of Representatives, a mining engineer with which Salburg was formerly associated.

Brotherhood Meeting.
The Brotherhood of the Y.M.C.A. will meet in the lobby of the Association building this evening at 8 o'clock and supper will be served at 8:30, when there will be good music and a talk by Rev. T. T. Fries of Hollywood, on "The Heart of the Gospel." All men, and especially strangers, are invited to attend.

Do You Own a Dog?
If so, and you object to the ordinance requiring him to wear a muzzle, you are among those invited to participate in a meeting of the Protective Association which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the music hall of the Blanchard Building. A dog owner's Protective Association will be formed.

Excursion Called Off.
The long-heralded excursion of the members of the Y.M.C.A. Glen Club and their friends, which was to have started for Lake Tahoe yesterday afternoon, had to be called off for lack of patronage. There were not sufficient reservations to warrant running the train. On previous occasions these excursions have proven popular and successful.

Good Cheer Promised.
All kinds of good cheer is promised for the annual banquet of the Restaurant Men's Association, to be held at the Cafe, Saturday evening. Leading chefs of the city will contribute masterpieces, and there will be novel table decorations. The same promise is made regarding the entertainment. Seventy-five members with their guests will attend. C. C. Loomis will be the toastmaster.

Private Patrol Service.
Anxious by the murder of a telegraph operator in their neighborhood last Tuesday morning, residents of Mariposa avenue, between Second and Council streets, organized an improvement association Saturday night and raised a fund to pay a night watchman, who shall patrol that street. Fire protection, roadway improvement, street lighting and a remedy for the inconvenience caused by numbering the houses, also were discussed.

Adolescents and Bible Study.
The Vacation Religious Day School opened yesterday in the Parish House of the First Congregational Church, under the superintendence of Rev. H. S. Tattle. There was a large attendance of visitors and a considerable number of boys and girls enrolled, but it is expected that many more will enter today. Adults, too, are invited to attend. The school will feature the study of the Bible, while study of the Bible will be pursued under a system that is at once efficient and novel.

Planning a Row.
At the last part of the Los Angeles county branch of the California Woman's Democratic League to be held in the Higgins Building Wednesday afternoon, plans will be made to receive Governor Judice Stephens, Joseph Binotti and Milton K. Young on their return from Baltimore. A mass meeting will be called at which these men will be invited to make addresses—giving their impressions of the Baltimore convention. Arrangements will be made later to receive Mrs. T. T. Lloy, a Los Angeles woman who was an alternate to the convention and who is returning by way of New York. Mrs. Albert L. Stephens has been appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for the first of the monthly garden parties which the county branch is to hold.

BREVITIES.

CONVENTION IS ALL HARMONY.

Musical Is Foretaste of Promised Treats.

State Music Teachers Will Begin Work Today.

Gamut Club Scene of Ant-Convention Affair.

A reception and musical was tendered the visiting delegates to the second annual convention of the Music Teachers' Association of California last night at the Gamut Club Auditorium.

The affair was a prelude to the formal opening of the convention, which will be convened this morning at 9 o'clock in the Gamut Club Auditorium. There were fully 500 guests last night at the beautiful clubhouse, presented a brilliant scene. The entire clubhouse, upstairs and downstairs, had been thrown open to the delegates and their friends and they were made to feel perfectly at home.

The ballroom was used as a reception parlor prior to the beginning of the musical programme in the little theater.

Most of the delegates arrived Sunday night and came from every part of the State. They represent the active element in the advancement of music, both vocal and instrumental.

A short meeting of the board of directors of the association was held yesterday morning and afternoon and the important matters to be taken up during the sessions of the convention were discussed.

Impromptu excursions to the many points of interest in and around Los Angeles were made by the various groups of delegates during the day, but all hurried back to the city in order to be prompt to attend the formal reception and musical at the Gamut Club.

ARRIVE EARLY.
The guests began to arrive as early as 8 o'clock and the Reception Committee, consisting of Mrs. Little, Mrs. E. H. Blanchard, Miss Ada Clement, Miss Beatrice Clifford, Miss Margaret Kimble, Miss Caroline H. Little, Mrs. Jessie W. Taylor, Miss Elizabeth, Miss Edna W. Wilson, and Mrs. Alvin H. Wilson, were kept busy until 9 o'clock receiving delegates and their friends.

The committee was stationed in the assembly hall and as the guests entered the foyer, the delegates were moved by attendants and after gathering in little groups for the exchange of last night's news, they passed into the assembly hall and down the receiving line.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the Reception Committee led the delegates from the assembly hall to the theater proper, which was tastefully decorated with silk flags, flowers and ferns. The little theater was soon filled to overflowing and many seated stools and chairs were used.

The singing section of the Turnverein Germania, under the leadership of Henry Schoonfeld, rendered several excellent selections, among which were: "Das ist der Tag der Herrn," by Kretzer, "In der Fern," by Scherer, "Mein Schicksal," by Attenhofer.

Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper, dramatic soprano, sang with hearty approval the songs of an address which was delivered by an address from "Der Freischütz," by Weber, and was commended to answer to an address, Joseph H. Schuchman, assisted by the singing section, rendered pleasingly "Sonntagsfrieden," "Das Treue Mutterchen," and "Morgen in Thier." The formal opening of the convention will occur this morning at 9 o'clock, when Fred G. Ellis, president of the Southern California division of the association, will deliver an address of welcome. Henry Eberhardt, president of the State association, will respond. At 9:30 o'clock the musical programme will be rendered. At 11 o'clock Prof. Charles Louis Heston, Jr., dean of music at the University of California, will speak on the subject, "Music in the University."

There will be an intermission until 2 o'clock, when Miss E. H. Blanchard, and Miss Elizabeth Simpson of Berkeley will illustrate how the future members of the association are taking their first musical steps in 1917. At 3 o'clock there will be an illustrated lecture on the Lombard system and the development of modern music.

There will be an organ recital at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral and the evening session of the banquet of the association will be given in the Gamut Club Auditorium. There will be numerous organ recitals, musicals and lectures on various subjects interspersed with receptions and teas at various headquarters up to and including Thursday.

The officers and standing committee of the association are: Henry Eberhardt, president, San Francisco; Joseph Beninger, general vice-president, San Francisco; Roscoe Warren, treasurer, Oakland; William R. Whitman, recording secretary, San Francisco; Miss Marie Withrow, corresponding secretary, San Francisco; Board of directors, Henry Beninger, Joseph Beninger, Roscoe Warren, Mrs. Planchette Ashley, Mrs. Marjorie Campbell, William R. Chamberlain, Hether Wanner, County vice-presidents, Mrs. J. E. Boke, Napa county; Pleasant Doucet, Santa Clara county; C. F. Edson, Los Angeles county; Homer S. Henley, Sacramento county; Mrs. Hope Seiford, Santa Cruz county; E. L. Lippitt, Sonoma county; Don Pardee Riggs, Fresno county; Julius Reinke, Placer county; D. P. Huchey, Alameda county; Mrs. J. H. Dunn, San Mateo county; S. Maxwell Supher, Butte county; Charles G. Beck, Marin county.

NOT SEEKING TROUBLE.

City Board of Education Shies at Request from Pasadena Brethren to Enter Friendly Suit.

Having had troubles of their own, as to how the school funds should be handled, the City Board of Education, with a very polite "No," shied at the invitation of the Pasadena Board of Education to join them in a friendly suit, to determine whether or not the County of any city has jurisdiction over the said funds.

The Pasadena representatives complained that the City Council kept harassing them in every manner possible, and they wish to settle the question by carrying it to the higher courts. The members of the local board laughed at their troubles last night, and declared that they had been emancipated. Tonight's affair is a communication to the Pasadena Board of Education asking that they present their desire for cooperation in writing, when formal action will be taken.

ELKS GRAND LODGE.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 8.—Tonight closed the formal opening of the forty-ninth annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, C. C. Bradley, Exalted Ruler of the Portland Lodge presiding. Tonight's affair was in the nature of a general reception to the visiting members of the order. Addresses of welcome in behalf of the local lodge, the city and State, the response by Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Sullivan, constituted the evening's program.

Tomorrow the delegates to the convention will take up the inner work of the lodge. The program of the various officers will be read, and Grand Exalted Ruler Sullivan will make his annual address, which will outline the work of the order since he assumed the stewardship.

The lights of the grand court of honor and other illuminations were turned on tonight. Delegation bands were everywhere, and kept the popular awake until a late hour.

The retirement bureau shows more than 13,000 Elks with many yet to register and several "specials" to arrive.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor yesterday selected Edward Johnson, a member of the Aqueduct Investigating Board, and Walter Lyle, a civil engineer, as members of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and will send their names to the City Council this morning.

The City Council organized yesterday as a Board of Equalization and disposed of sixty-one cases. The report of the Fire Chief yesterday to the City Council showed only one fire on July 4, and the Mayor called attention to the fact that during the year the fire loss has been reduced 70 cents per capita from that of the previous year.

The Pacific Electric yesterday filed its application for a franchise to cross Touraine and Normandie streets and also for a four-track system on Mission road in order to legalize the use of the tracks.

During the course of his trial in the Superior Court yesterday on a charge of having obtained money under false pretenses, Garham Tuffe, Jr., told of having applied for the position of his father's secretary and of his wife when she wrote letters in his defense early in the morning.

MAYOR WILL NAME TWO APPOINTEES

LYLE AND JOHNSON SLATED FOR HARBOR BOARD.

Latter Now Member of the Aqueduct Investigating Board and Former His Close Friend and a Civil Engineer—Mayor Believes Appointments Will Be Approved.

There is a prospect of Los Angeles obtaining a Harbor Commission, or two-thirds of one, today. This morning the Mayor will send to the City Council the names of Edward Johnson, a member of the Aqueduct Investigating Board, and Walter Lyle, a civil engineer, who resides at No. 1109 St. Andrews place, as his appointees for membership in the commission that is now vacant because of the resignations of Messrs. Gibson, Mayo and Richards. The Mayor believes that the Council will confirm these appointments.

This will give a working body, so that the business of the Harbor Commission, which is now at a standstill, may be resumed, but the third member of the commission is still a matter of conjecture. Naturally the Mayor is anxious to appoint as the third member a man who can work in harmony with the others to be appointed today.

A report that was current yesterday and which the Mayor does not deny, is that he is anxious to secure the services of Captain Edward Johnson, an engineer, U.S.A., formerly in charge of the Federal harbor improvements at San Pedro, but who was transferred some time ago and who is now stationed in the East.

It would be a working body, so that the business of the Harbor Commission, which is now at a standstill, may be resumed, but the third member of the commission is still a matter of conjecture. Naturally the Mayor is anxious to appoint as the third member a man who can work in harmony with the others to be appointed today.

Members of the City Council dropped out of the municipal parade when it passed the City Hall yesterday and assembled in the Council chamber to organize as a Board of Equalization as required by law. President William C. Hall was elected as chairman of the board.

City Assessor Mallard was present with his assessment experts and his numerous volumes of tax rolls, and the first case presented was that of Mrs. Julia Eddy, the widow of a 1881 War veteran, who applied for the $1000 exemption provided for under the State laws. Mrs. Johnson, however, had not made the necessary affidavit in regard to the war service of her late husband, and the case was postponed until she could be summoned. She appeared later and after filing the necessary papers the exemption was allowed.

Sixty-one cases were disposed of yesterday. One of these was pertaining to the new site for the State Normal School. C. T. Cogwell, who contacted with the land of the site on the 25th of last January, but who did not close the transaction until June 12, asked to be relieved from the taxation on this property. The board held that the property belonged to Cogwell until the transfer was completed, and that he is liable for the tax.

A series of interesting applications for the increase of personal property assessments developed the fact that numerous persons forgot that they had automobiles until this fact was called to their attention by the City Assessor, who has the power to place a lien on the property if it is not reported, and this was followed by the many requests that their listings be increased. There were numerous other requests of this kind yet to be acted upon, and the total may make a considerable increase in the revenue of the city.

The board will meet each morning in the Council chamber until its work is completed, probably about August 1.

JUDGE BORDWELL SAYS HE WANTS A CHANGE.

He'll Leave Bench.

JUDGE BORDWELL is to retire from judicial work in the city, but his motive in deciding not to be a candidate to succeed himself on the Superior Court bench is not that he may be free to accept an appointment to the Federal bench at this time, he states.

A report has been current among some of his friends that when he left Chicago after attending the Republican convention he went to East St. Louis, where he was appointed to the bench. As a matter of fact, his mission East was of a very different nature than politics. He went to visit the Congregational College at Olivet, Mich., where he gave a sermon and made an L.L.D.

Judge Bordwell had not been graduated from the college at Olivet as a doctor of laws, or as a doctor of any thing else. When 8 years of age, his father, who was a farmer in Michigan, died, and his mother took him and her three other children to Olivet to give them an opportunity to get an education. After having finished a preparation course and had been in college eighteen months young Bordwell decided that he did not want to be a professional man and that he did not want to take a collegiate course, so he went to business college and made for himself a business career.

Marrying young, he went into general merchandise. He was a good deal of a failure at this and tried farming, in which he failed miserably. Then he tried to be a dairyman, with indifferent success, and later operated two cheese factories, although all of these experiences helped him tremendously later in his life. It was then that his father-in-law took him in hand and compelled him, almost against his will, to study law.

As soon as he was admitted to practice before the bar of Michigan, he left that State and came to California. He arrived at Los Angeles in 1898 with $10,000, which he had in credit and nothing in the future except what he could make. He was at once admitted to practice law in California, and it took two years of close living and hard work to get the wolf on the run. It also required two years to get him to study law, and a wonderful asset to Los Angeles the climate of this city really is, and today he thinks the climate here is the best.

CITIZENS ASK COUNCIL FOR INVESTIGATION.

F. J. EVANS, H. Adler, O. P. Nevada, William H. Engle and R. Curtis, prominent citizens, who are known as the "Citizens' Committee," today filed with the City Clerk for presentation to the City Council a communication asking a series of pointed questions in regard to the granting of rights of way and privileges to the city.

Whitely, by the way, is a member of the Streets and Boulevards Committee, yet he took up this subject with the council. It happened that he was a member of the committee for two years ago that would be severely criticized if the charges brought by the "Citizens' Committee" should be proved to be true.

But the "Citizens' Committee" are angry clear through. First, the ordinance after the Mayor signed it was lost for a year and a half and a few weeks ago it was found. The City Attorney, who was in the possession of the ordinance, had been passed, framed a letter under which it was withdrawn. Then, when they had a hearing before the Council, a man not a member of the Street Committee, takes part in the session of the committee and gets the matter up to two boards that have nothing to do with it at all, and now they feel that they are being played with again.

While the ordinance had been passed and signed by Alexander, and was awaiting publication, two letters were sent from his office to the "Citizens' Committee" telling them that he would look after the case and notify them as soon as the ordinance should reach him.

"Our titles are affected," said F. J. Evans, one of the protesting citizens, "and we want to see that something be done."

Of which were false; that twenty-five were grass fires and that in ten there was no loss. The estimated loss in the other cases was $11,040. Attention was called to the fact that on the Fourth there was but one fire alarm, that of the burning of an automobile shop, which was valued at $450, and this was contrasted with the former independence days when the fire of fireworks was the custom and when the fire department was held in high tension throughout the entire day and night. The Mayor made mention of the fact that the efficiency of the fire department is shown by the fact that during the past fiscal year, just closed, the fire loss has been reduced 70 cents per capita from that of the previous year.

Fire Chief Eley for the past three months has had a corps of men making careful inspections of the business and industrial districts to note conditions that invited fires and to insist upon their being remedied. He stated yesterday that the business men had cheerfully complied with these demands and that undoubtedly this has much to do with the city's fine record for lack of serious fires.

More Fire Hydrants.

The Fire Commission yesterday decided to recommend to the Public Service Commission the placing of thirteen new hydrants with double four-inch outlets at various points within the congested district, and also sidevalve hydrants with two-and-one-half-inch outlets to be installed by private water companies at various points within the districts that they serve. It estimated that these ninety hydrants will cost $23.05 each.

For Better Service.

The Fire Commission yesterday considered a proposition to require the Union Hollywood Water Company to install a four-inch main on Hollywood avenue from Vermont avenue to Virgil street and a four-inch main southerly on Virgil street to Middleberry street. The proposition was referred to the Fire Chief for further investigation, but the commission considered the subject favorably.

CITY HALL BRIEVITIES.

The Fire Commission yesterday adopted a proposition to require the Union Hollywood Water Company to install a four-inch main on Hollywood avenue from Vermont avenue to Virgil street and a four-inch main southerly on Virgil street to Middleberry street. The proposition was referred to the Fire Chief for further investigation, but the commission considered the subject favorably.

C. E. McKee, secretary of the Fire and Police commissions, today went on a two weeks' vacation to northern cities, and will study the manner in which records of officers are kept.

Property owners and business concerns on Broadway, between First and Second streets, yesterday filed a protest to the City Council against the ordinance that congregates in front of an automobile showroom a crowd of people, and that the sidewalk has been caused a loss of business, preventing women from visiting the store and offices.

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance of intention to widen Fifth street from Broadway to Spring street, the buildings on the north side of Fifth, between the other streets mentioned, have been set back to the new line except that at the corner of Fifth and Spring, although there has never been an adjustment of the buildings to the new line, which has been used by the public for some time.

The initiative petition for an amendment providing for city and county consolidation, which has been signed by 25,000 voters, and the petition will be filed today. It bears 12,000 signatures.

Sharp Encounter Between Deputy District Attorney and Defendant—Man Obedient When Fee for Appearance in Court When None Is Necessary.

A sharp encounter between Deputy District Attorney Horton and defendant Man Obedient, who is charged with the murder of a woman, took place yesterday in the courtroom of the Superior Court.

Tufts was on the stand all day, and showed that under a severe cross-examination his brain is nimble. He declared he had seen a certain letter in the possession of Horton, who would not give it up. Horton sprang to his feet, inferring that Tufts had accused him.

"Did you mean to say," he demanded, "that I secreted the letter?" Tufts came back with a hot retort, but the matter was dropped. Horton added a little more powder to his rapid-fire gun and kept Tufts from the verbal bullets.

Brown's encounter with Carpenter occurred after he had been examined by Judge Cabanis, who caught the tail end of it as he came out of his chambers, and gently led Brown away from the courtroom. Carpenter, accused of having talked to jurors, Brown denied the charge.

Gates' adventure will have a chapter written today. He was sent out to get a witness named J. Yester. He found him and returned to board a train. Wilkinson refused to go to court unless he received a $2 fee. Gates paid him, and he went on hand today.

Gates was charged when he learned a witness in a criminal suit is not entitled to fees. A dramatic part of Tufts' testimony yesterday was his description of Mrs. Tufts' habit of writing at an early morning hour. The particular occasion was letters of vindication she wrote between 2 and 5 o'clock one morning in the interest of her husband, who commended his wife's zeal from the warmth of the bed clothing.

SIGNATURE DISPUTED.

BATTLE OF CHIROGRAPHS. The authenticity of the signature of the late Prof. J. Alexander Brown to a $8000 note, which was bought as an investment by C. S. Cooley and A. S. Barrett, furnished the raison d'être for a battle of experts in Judge Buckner's court, made for the purposes of the trial on the first floor of the Courthouse yesterday.

Attacks Heirship.

AFFIDAVIT IN WALDEN ESTATE. An affidavit filed by Attorney Galusha yesterday in connection with a new trial in the fight of the Irish claimants for the $200,000 estate of Matilda Walden. The successful litigation was Martha Monroe, who was opposed by the American litigants. She showed that she is the daughter of James Wilson and Mrs. Walden's nearest living relative.

Ralph Wilson, one of the defendants, now declares he never knew James Wilson, who was married. She would be identified as Martha Monroe he says does not know where she came from or how she came to Hollywood, where she now resides. Wilson says he had not seen her for forty years.

Martha Monroe received one-half of the estate, and the Irish litigants are now claiming that she is not entitled to the award. Galusha will move for a new trial in the noted case in the Probate Court Thursday.

WILL CONTEST.

INVOLVES CLAPP ESTATE. A contest to break the will of W. Walter Clapp of Pasadena, who died May 27, 1911, leaving the bulk of his $50,000 estate to two children, setting off the third with $1000 and some personal property, was called in the Probate Court yesterday and continued until a later date, by stipulation of counsel.

The contestant is Mrs. Jennie H. Culver, a daughter, who resides in San Gabriel. Galusha will move for a new trial in the noted case in the Probate Court Thursday.

SEE CITY ROLL BY ON WHEELS.

Municipal Parade's Largest Ever Held Here.

Eight Miles of Progress in Ninety-Minute Pageant.

Every Department Shuts Up Shop to Participate.

Between three and four thousand officials and employees of the city of Los Angeles made up one of the most colorful and interesting pageants ever held on the streets of Los Angeles yesterday morning. It was the municipal parade, opening event of the convention of the National Municipal League, which began its session here yesterday.

The parade was about eight miles long and required one and a half hours to pass a given point. It ranged all the way from the Mayor, surrounded by the members of his official family, down to the dog catcher at the city with an unmuzzled canine caught in his net.

There were water wagons enough to carry a great part of the Los Angeles River. There were street rollers, asphalt rollers, steam rollers, hundreds of automobiles and the Los Angeles fire department—part of it. There were sections of the great aqueduct on foot, buggies and carriages and men on foot carrying banners and streamers that set forth in figures the vast amount of work being accomplished by the city.

IN DETAIL.

Police Captain C. O. Lehnhausen, the grand marshal, had the five divisions of the parade in excellent formation at their various vantage points prominently at 9 o'clock. They had been stopped on Main, Spring and Broadway to make way for it. The first section of the first division, consisting of the Mayor and other elective officials and commissioners, formed on Broadway in front of the City Hall.

The second division, consisting of the public library directors and library staff, formed at Eighth and Broadway. The second division formed on Eleventh, near Main street. The third formed at Tenth and Main. The fourth and fifth, near Main, and the fifth, the largest in the entire parade, at Eighth and Main.

In the lead came Capt. Lehnhausen, a magnificent white horse and many rounded by his aides. These were Col. W. G. Schreiber, Charles L. Harry, J. C. O'Connell, J. H. Hays and W. H. Higgins. Following came thirty-five gaily-decorated automobiles, bearing the members of the City Council, including the Mayor and Auditor, Tax Collector, Assessor, Comptroller, Public Utilities Commissioner, Harbor Department, Board of Censors, Housing Commission, purchasing department and the staff of the Mayor and other elective officials and commissioners, formed on Broadway in front of the City Hall.

MALARIA—BLOOD POVERTY

Malaria is a species of blood poverty known as Anemia. In the first stages of Malaria the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the appetite is affected, the system grows bilious, and there is a general feeling of weakness.

As the circulation becomes more thoroughly saturated with the malarial infection, the digestion is deranged, chills and fever come and go, skin diseases, boils, sores and ulcers break out.

Malaria can only be cured by removing the germs from the blood. S. S. S. destroys every particle of malarial infection and builds up the blood to a strong, nourishing condition.

Then the system receives its proper amount of nutriment, sallow complexions grow ruddy and healthful, the liver and digestion are righted and every symptom of Malaria passes away.

S. S. S. cures in every case because it purifies the blood. S. S. S. is a safe and pleasant remedy as well as an efficient one.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

High Cost of Living.

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Democratic platform avers that it is due to the tariff; the Republican platform says it is not. I am a Republican, but this time I must admit the Democrats are correct: The high cost is due to the tariff, and beneficently so, and I will explain why.

Under protection anybody and everybody willing to work can, at the present time, obtain some kind of employment at a good rate of wages, and when everybody has wages they also have the wherewithal to purchase what they want, which, as a rule, are all articles that enter into the high cost of living.

If our people were deprived of work by means of free trade, or foreign competition, they would not have wages, and having no wages they could not purchase what they want and what enters into the high cost of living; thus, under the rule of supply and demand, commodities would be cheaper.

We will now look at conditions such as obtained during the last term of Grover Cleveland and the Democratic party. The factories were closed, the wheels of industry were idle, our people were unemployed, our women poorly clothed, the country was strewn with the wrecks of industries which could not continue under the stress and strain of foreign competition. Was living high during these times? Most certainly not. Look at the record. Thousands of people were glad to get bread alone. Would this condition induce the high cost of meat? Certainly not. The working people, or many of them, did not buy meat. Would it increase the cost of clothing? The record shows it did not. Having no money, they wore their old clothing. Is there any possibility that oranges, lemons, olives and sugar would be high and free? Certainly not, and neither would the people now engaged in producing those commodities have the money to buy them, and all commodities under the rule of supply and demand would go correspondingly down, and they would stay down until conditions were such that labor in all lines would be again employed.

I mention oranges, lemons, olives and sugar because they are local products, and all of our informed people know that we could not continue their profitable production under free trade. Apply this line of reasoning to cotton, wool, lumber, iron, leather, and all the various commodities that are now protected, and where do you land? The foreigner will have the work, and having the work, he will have the wages. Our people will have no work; they will have no wages and no purchasing power. Competition for the articles which enter into the high cost of living will be reduced and living will be cheap.

I claim that the Democrats are right, the tariff is responsible for the high cost of living, and much have we to be thankful for that!

Mrs. Harley A. Henderson.

Who is enjoying an extended honeymoon trip through the East and Canada. Mrs. Henderson was formerly Miss Gladys Blessington, whose wedding took place during June, at the Elbell club house.

PRETENTIOUS affair of the last day of the week past was the annual banquet of the Aeolian Music Club, which took place at Hotel Beverly Hills. The table glowed with a pretty profusion of Rhoda daisies and hand-painted acollas in the club colors, green and yellow marked covers.

Miss Josephine Nell as toastmaster introduced the speakers with clever hits on their personal characteristics. The following toasts were given: "Our Guests," Mrs. H. P. Poole; "Past and Future of Our Club," Miss Eva Hoppers; "Duties of Secretary," Mrs. W. H. Maddock; "Trusting the Treasurer," Mrs. Harry Underwood; "Out Going President," by the new president, Miss Grace Helen Pease, who later presented Miss Eva Hoppers with a bouquet in the club colors.

Plates at the table were laid for Mrs. C. A. Nell, Mrs. Clarence H. Poole, Mrs. W. H. Maddock, Mrs. H. P. Poole, Mrs. Harry Underwood, Miss Eva Hoppers, Miss Grace Helen Pease, Miss Josephine Nell, Miss Helen Mills, Miss Ray Lippman, Miss Lillian Pressman, Miss Hannea Little, Miss Goldie Schneider, Miss L. Weber, Miss Hazel Thorne, Miss May Merch, Mrs. William Brownstein, Miss Pearl Kaddell and Miss Beattie O'Brien.

In Paris. Mrs. Alexander Campbell of South Grand avenue, Judge and Mrs. Hendricks and son, and Mrs. G. Wiley Wells are registered at Hotel De Calais in Paris.

In San Francisco. A prominent Angeleno who attended the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in San Francisco, where she was elected Vice President, returned home with a well known clubwoman of New York. Mrs. Richardson has been widely interested in philanthropic work in the East and her decision to take up active work in California has met with a hearty endorsement from her many friends. Mrs. Richardson is expected home Wednesday.

FROM HAPPINESS TO DESOLATION.

LEAVES HOME OF WEDDING FEAST FOR HOUSE OF DEATH.

Explosion Destroys Building and Kills Italian Laborer—Police Conclude that House Filled With Gas From Leak and that Striking of Match Caused Blow-up.

A night of merry-making following a wedding had a tragic ending near 3 o'clock yesterday morning when V. Polli, an elderly Italian laborer, was burned to death in the debris of his home, No. 2323 Damon street, after it had been blown up by an interior explosion, presumably of gas.

The charred remains found by firemen and patrolmen and partially identified by members of the family. They were removed to the Bessie Brothers' morgue, where the coroner will hold an investigation.

The lives of four other persons, two women and two children, were possibly saved by the changing of plans a short time before Polli was killed. Instead of his wife, daughter and his two grandchildren returning home with him, they remained at the house where the wedding took place. Had the others returned perhaps they would have met a similar fate.

Polli and his wife, their daughter, Mrs. May Canamillo, and her two small children went to the home of Antonio Risco, near Ninth and Hawthorne streets, early in the evening to attend the wedding of Miss Risco. Miss Risco is a niece of Polli.

It was planned for the Polli family to remain over night at the Risco home. After the wedding one of the Canamillo children was taken ill and Polli decided to return home. He first took the bride couple to a south-bound Venice car. He had been in the house but a few minutes, it is said, before the neighborhood was startled by the noise and concussion of the explosion, which threw wreckage many feet in all directions.

Mrs. Jennie Scurdy, No. 2349 Damon street, was looking out of a window at that moment. She told Detective Jones and Erven, who were detailed on the case, that the front end of the Polli house seemed to jump into the air before she heard or felt the shock of the explosion. When the raised portion settled back upon its foundation, the whole structure collapsed. The next instant the wreckage was enveloped in flames.

Harry Christo, living next door, was thrown from his bed by the force of the explosion. He rushed to the nearest fire box and turned in an alarm. His actions gave rise to the rumor that the Polli house had been wrecked by "black-hand" agents, one of whom, it was reported, had been seen running from the building a few minutes before the explosion.

The force of the explosion awakened the neighborhood for many blocks, and soon the burning wreckage was surrounded by a crowd of men, women and children.

Canamillo told Jones and Erven that the gas stove fixtures had been leaking. It is the theory of the detectives that the house became filled with gas and when Polli scratched a match to light a coal oil lamp in the front room the explosion followed.

The "hungry burglar" visited the Copp & Gilham grocery, No. 4223 and a careful search was made of the ruins after the firemen had extinguished the flames.

Polli, it is said, carried $1800 life insurance, the policy being paid for by his daughter. Polli owned the house, which was valued at $1000. The contents were valued at $300.

BURGLAR HAS SWEET TOOTH. Another Has Weak Eyes, the Police Surmise, as They Take Inventory of Articles Stolen.

The police are searching the city for a sneak thief who has a penchant for watermelons, cigarettes, chewing gum, chewing tobacco, maple sugar and boiled ham. They are also looking for a near-sighted burglar.

The latter was reported yesterday to have entered the home of Mrs. A. Moser, No. 1148 Virgil avenue, some time Sunday night and stolen a five-inch magnifying glass, a pair of spectacles and three pocket knives.

The police say they would not be surprised to learn that the burglar first found the eyeglasses while groping around in the dark and after putting them on found the magnifying glass. Armed with this he finally looted the kitchen.

Roaming at Large.

Buying underfed cattle and fattening them on the pastures afforded by the few bits of geranium and other shrubs that blossom over Utah-street way was the real character on which Alex Schubin appeared yesterday before Justice Forbes.

The complaining witness was Officer Fullerton of the S.P.C.A. The technical charge was allowing cattle to roam at large. Schubin, with his hair parted in the middle and growing down over his ears and a long, patriarchal-looking beard, had the charge explained to him by an interpreter, for he speaks only Russian.

After he had heard it he nodded his head, the justice said $35 fine and Schubin paid it without blinking his eye.

Nothing But Class.

YANKEE OLYMPIC STARS MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP.

England Protests Semi-finals in Relay Race, but Isn't Running at All When Finals Are Reached. America Takes First Three Places in Hundred-Meter Dash—Horne Not Up to Usual Class.

BY JAMES H. RANDALL.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND BY WIRELESS FROM CHICAGO TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKHOLM, July 8.—(Special Dispatch.) The triple breaking of world's records and the securing by American athletes of considerably more points than all the other teams together, were features of today in Stockholm.

There was another feature of less pleasant sort. It would be noticed from even a cursory glance at the table showing the standing of the teams, that up to the present John Bull, to borrow one of his own phrases, has "failed to break his duck." Mighty Britain is without a point.

In the semi-finals of the 400-meter relay race the English team was defeated by the American sprinters. That the Brits were away outclassed, there could be no manner of doubt. This event was due to be won by our lads, and it was absolutely not in it, don't you know.

Unfortunately, however, of course, one of our boys, instead of passing the little billet of wood to his relief, immediately the latter got into the race, held on to it, and continued the race instead of at once dropping out, so, by George, the Brits are protested, were given the semi-final. This year McLoughlin ranks absolutely no alternative but to uphold the British protest, but the protest ought never to have been made. It showed conclusively that the English crowd are sore; that they are away below the old class of Doug, Cromland, Bacon and Davis, in fact, that they are just as poor sportsmen as they are a sorry lot of outclassed champions.

It was a surprise to many that George Horne only managed to win third in the running high jump. He started in his best form and was certainly the most spectacular of the men who competed. This event was won by Almen W. Richards, the "Mormon miracle," from Provo, Utah, with a jump of 192 centimeters, exceeding Porter's record jump at the games in London in 1908, but away under what Horne has done, both in California and in New York and on New England soil.

The victory of J. E. Meredith in the 800-meter flat race was a sensational one. Men who have followed the path for twenty and thirty years say they never saw anything finer than this boy dashed by, breaking the world's record in 1 minute 51 9/10 seconds. He continued on, and broke the record for the half mile, covering that distance in 1 m. 52 1/2 s. Melvin Sheppard was second and Ira Davenport third, all inside the Olympic record time, 1 m. 52 1/2 s. Sheppard's own time at London in 1908.

When the three American flags went up announcing for the second time during this year's Olympic games the triple victory for the United States, the enthusiasm broke loose at all points within the stadium. The Swedes and those good sports, the Finns, who hold second honors to date, could not have cheered more boisterously if they had been born and bred in the United States. It was a great day, notwithstanding the little mix-up in the relay race.

Official recognition has been given by the Swedish authorities to the baseball game which is to be played during the present Olympiad between teams drafted from the eastern and western athletes on the American team, the Olympics and the Finlands.

No "Smokes" for Mike. But for the stand of Trainer Mike Murray there would probably have been a number of negroes on the American team to Stockholm. Several showed enough sense in the try-

TENNIS STARS ON LONG TRIP.

McLoughlin to Leave for East Tonight.

Bundy and Braly to Begin Campaign Next Week.

Itinerary Includes Many Important Tournaments.

BY EDMUND W. PUGH.

The invasion of the East by California's crack tennis players is to begin today, when Maurice McLoughlin will leave San Francisco for Massachusetts, where he will compete in the annual tourney at the Longwood Cricket Club.

Next Monday, Tom Bundy, who, with McLoughlin, won the Pacific Coast doubles championship Saturday, will leave this city for Chicago to begin a six weeks' campaign through the Middle West and East.

The south which the Californians will cut through the invaded territory is indicated by the showing that McLoughlin, Bundy and Mel Long made last year. One or the other of these three experts won the championship in every tourney, but one, in which they competed. McLoughlin was beaten by Touchard in the singles at Longwood, but that was the only occasion on which one of the trio failed to come out on top.

TO CLIMAX AT WINDY CITY. The primary purpose of Bundy's and McLoughlin's trip East is to take another crack at the national doubles championship. McLoughlin will retrace his steps from Longwood to Chicago, where he will meet Bundy.

They will compete in the sectional doubles tourney that is to be played July 31 and August 1. Charles Hopper is to play in the same tourney with Frank Alexander, a former Aggie, who is now residing at Chicago. The pair will attempt to win the Middle Western championship and thereby get into the sectional matches. If they are successful they may have to stack up against Bundy and McLoughlin. Bundy did not compete in the Pacific Coast doubles, as he did not wish to render himself ineligible to play in the Middle Western event.

BRALY'S FIRST CAMPAIGN.

The trip will be the first that Hal Braly has made East as a tennis campaigner, and he is certain to make a "hit" on the eastern courts. His smashing game undoubtedly will make the easterners open their eyes and it is likely that on his showing he will gain a rank among the "upper ten" on the list of the National Lawn Tennis Association, a position that is coveted by every racket-wielding amateur.

This year McLoughlin ranks fifth, certainly an admirable showing. Braly probably will not play in any doubles events, but will confine himself entirely to the singles. He, Bundy and McLoughlin will endeavor to win the Middle Western singles title in the Chicago tourney that begins July 29. Last year McLoughlin won the title and two years ago Bundy carried off the honor, and it looks as if one of the three would again turn the trick.

ON TO OLD NEW YORK.

After the Chicago tourney, Bundy, McLoughlin and Braly will jump to Brooklyn, where they will participate in the New York State championships at the Crescent Club. The tourney is to begin August 1 and as on that date Bundy and McLoughlin are to play in the big doubles event at Chicago, they will have to make a quick getaway from the Windy City in order to break into the Crescent Club tourney. Last year McLoughlin won the singles championship at Brooklyn.

The trio will next play in the Southampton (L. I.) tourney, Bundy carried off the honors there in the singles last year. The eastern trip will culminate at the national tourney at Newport, R. I., the latter part of August. Here the Pacific Coast stars will make a stab at the national singles title, and Bundy and McLoughlin, if they have been successful in the sectional doubles tourney at Chicago, will meet Little and Touchard, the national champions, for the coveted title.

In 1910 Bundy won the singles event in the Newport tourney, but was defeated by Little, the national champion, in the challenge round, in five hard sets. In the same year Bundy and "Bron" Hopper won the doubles tourney here, were victorious at Chicago, but lost against Alexander and Hackett, the then-national champions, in the challenge round. The year before, Jones and McLoughlin were defeated in the challenge round. Last year Bundy and McLoughlin were defeated at Chicago in five sets by Little and Touchard, who defeated Alexander and Hackett in the challenge round.

SINGLES TITLE IN REACH.

Larned, the national singles champion, is expected to play in the challenge round.

The Best Food for Baby

We carry a complete line of sewing machine sundries—everything you could possibly want—needles, belts, bobbins, etc., and we make a great feature of our sewing machine oil. (Sewing Machine Department, Main Floor.)

"Domestic" and "Angelus" Machines

Domestic Model 6A $34.50

A model for which you'd pay $45 if it were carried by an exclusive agency. It has automatic lift and drop head and four drawers. The cabinet work is of choice quarter sawed oak—the kind that is always elegant. A great favorite with all.

are the two best makes. The "Domestic" favorably known for over half a century, is the only one machine, that is a machine having both the lock and chain stitch. It will do 45 different kinds of sewing. Regular Domestic agency prices were $34.50 to $49.50. There are no middlemen's profits. You buy direct from the factory through us. The "Angelus" is a strictly high grade machine, made by one of the leading factories expressly for us. It has all modern ball-bearing improvements and is equal to any standard make machine selling for twice the amount. Exclusive agencies ask for this grade of machines, $30 to $70, our prices are $19.50 to $45. Besides saving $10.50 to $30.50, you can purchase either an "Angelus" or a Domestic" on our convenient Club Plan.

$2 Down and the machine will be delivered to your home. Then you need only pay $1 A Week on the balance due. No risk, no collectors or annoyance of any kind.

Call at Our Sewing Machine Department and have a chat with our demonstrator. She will be pleased to explain these machines and the advantages of our Club Plan to you. (Main Floor.)

"Angelus" $24.50

Exclusive dealers would ask you $35 for this machine. The cabinet work is of select quarter oak—quarter sawed wood, and has the hand rubbed piano finish. Ball-bearing throughout, automatic lift and drop head.

Hall-Borchert Waist and Dress Forms are thoroughly up-to-date, are always dependable and always at your service. They never disappoint—there are "just as good." They soon pay for themselves in actual money saving as well as the saving of time and labor, for with Hall-Borchert the home sewer can achieve results that would otherwise require the services on an expert dressmaker. Are exclusive agents in Southern California. Prices range from $2.75 to $18.

made by the State Board of Equalization, and which will be added later. Under the provisions of Amendment No. 1, the only tax to be figured on this entire amount will be the State tax for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and a State deficiency tax, if there should be one.

Deducting from the grand total of $79,919,976, the assessed value of banks, $29,451,144, leaves $50,468,832. On this amount, plus the value of steam railroads, to figure the tax for the payment of all bonds and interest thereon, issued and outstanding November 8, 1910.

Deducting from the grand total of $79,919,976, the assessed value of operative property of the banks and corporations, $112,951,395, leaves $166,968,581. On this amount, plus the value of steam railroads, to figure the tax for the payment of all bonds and interest thereon, issued and outstanding November 8, 1910.

The valuation of the county last year for the purpose of local taxation, was $14,844,702. The increase is $39,968,581. This would give an average of $2.66 per $100 of assessed value.

And her step-mother.

Beginning in 1896 and continuing until the time of Clapp's death, Mary White took care of the house, and Mrs. Culver, who had been married to Clapp, made false statements so that she could get her share of the property.

The will, dated November 11, 1910, was admitted to probate June 14, 1911. The other son is Frederick Clapp. William died December 27 of the same year and his widow, who was appointed administratrix, died in 1911.

Clapp was one of the early industrialists who went to Pasadena to make his home. He arrived in 1871 and bought a thirty-acre orange grove, which is now, for 1912, estimated at $100,000. He was a successful businessman and a generous philanthropist.

The legal battle is now in the hands of the State and Seaver & Seaver for the contest.

FRIENDLY DEED.

THE DEED OF A FRIEND who cared for his neighbor's interests in property they had bought on West 10th street, in the Belmont years ago is the record of a proceeding in the Probate Court yesterday, when the final distribution of the estate of J. M. Seaver was ordered.

After the investment Scott left the city and was not heard from for years. He was located in Covington, Ky., where he died. McConnell paid the taxes on the property, opening an account in Scott's name. An executor was appointed and it was ascertained that Scott had died, and his relatives were sought, resulting in finding C. E. Scott and Mrs. E. H. Hill, a brother and sister, in Vermont.

The property was sold by a court order and the shares of Scott received their shares. McConnell was reimbursed for his expenditures extending over eighteen years.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITY'S MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW TRIAL DENIED. The ground was cleared yesterday for an appeal to the Supreme Court, when Judge Wilbur denied the motion of the Spring Street Company and the Hamberger Realty Company for a new trial in the suit against the city for the widening of Eighth street, from Spring to Figueroa streets.

The Board of Public Works had awarded $16,162 and a half to the city for the widening of Eighth street, from Spring to Figueroa streets. The property owners allege that the assessment is illegal, and based thereon sought a new trial on the ground that the assessment was not in accordance with the benefits.

GOES TO TRIAL. The sole legatee of the Barlowe Ballerino estate is making a vigorous fight against a condemnation suit of the Southern Pacific to obtain a right-of-way through the Barlowe lands for a double-track railroad. The Barlowe heirs denied the motion of the Spring Street Company and the Hamberger Realty Company for a new trial in the suit against the city for the widening of Eighth street, from Spring to Figueroa streets.
